The Beginning of Love

The beginning of love started with Adam and Eve when the world was created, and without knowing, I found this love sleeping in my heart. What do I do if this is my destiny?

Do you remember when I got to know you, and you hesitated with the word 'love'? You thought that it's a simple word but pay attention because loving blindly is unreal.

Rejoice, God has arranged your travel. My lover traveled, took heaven and left me in hell. I can no longer live in our village after he left me.

Let me tell you, In what I've seen, there is no love that doesn't hurt. A perfect love, is love that has patience In times of trouble, it keeps holding It keeps going.

I didn't forget my love and your love, but I didn't find time for it so fill your time with it.
